Kirkland Receives 100 Percent Score on HRC's Corporate Equality Index

Kirkland received a 100 percent score on the Human Rights Campaign (HRC) 2012 Corporate Equality Index

(CEI) survey. This is the fifth year in a row that the Firm received a 100 percent score on the survey. HRC is the largest civil rights organization working to achieve equality for lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) individuals. The CEI report, released each year, provides an in-depth analysis and rating of large U.S. employers and their policies and practices pertinent to LGBT employees. The CEI rates companies on 40 specific policies and practices, 32 of which are new or more demanding this year. Businesses that receive 100 percent scores are recognized in HRC's "Best Places to Work for LGBT Equality" list and are considered among the most inclusive and fair-minded in their industry.

Best LGBT Lawyers Under 40

The National LGBT Bar Association selected intellectual property partners Joe Loy, Sarah Piepmeier and Jordan Heinz as recipients of the association's Best LGBT Lawyers Under 40 Awards. The National LGBT Bar Association established the awards in 2010 to recognize lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender legal professionals under the age of 40 who have distinguished themselves in their field and demonstrated a profound commitment to LGBT equality. Kirkland is the only organization with three attorneys on this year's list.

Letter from the Co-Chair of the Diversity Committee

We're sharing with you a photo of the Firmwide Diversity Committee, taken during the partners' meeting in October 2011 in Chicago. The picture does not include everyone, but hopefully it captures some of the energy and inspiration generated when many of us can gather in one place. We had a wonderful discussion that day and look forward to implementing new initiatives and ideas in 2012, including new diversity programs that we hope will attract broad Firmwide participation.

This issue features a number of awards and honors that diverse attorneys received in the last few months of 2011. Congratulations to all those who were recognized! We also want to salute the diverse attorneys who were recently promoted to partner at the Firm. — Eunu Chun

Diversity Profile

Philippa Scarlett

Litigation partner Philippa Scarlett says she was toughened up for high-stakes trial and appellate work at least in part by her experience as a law clerk to Associate Justice Stephen Breyer on the U.S. Supreme Court during the 2007-2008 Term. She recalls the yearlong clerkship as "an amazing experience," but also stressful, particularly when the court considered emergency motions from death row inmates seeking to stay their imminent executions. She — along with other law clerks — would research and recommend to the Justice whether to vote to stay the execution, which often would be scheduled to take place within a few hours of the court's receipt of the emergency stay request. "Having no time to figure out something that important when someone's life is on the line is a sobering experience," Philippa says. "Those experiences make everything else look so much easier."

Philippa joined Kirkland in 2009. Most recently, she assisted on the briefings and oral argument preparations in Pliva, Inc., et al. v. Mensing, a U.S. Supreme Court case that Kirkland argued and won for the defendants, including client Teva Pharmaceuticals. Philippa is also a member of a Kirkland team that represents Baxter Healthcare and affiliates of Teva Pharmaceuticals in a major set of product liability cases stemming from a hepatitis outbreak in Las Vegas caused by medical personnel inappropriately reusing medical equipment at various clinics. With a J.D. from Columbia Law School and a master's degree from Harvard University, Philippa hopes to continue to expand her practice in high-stakes litigation and is eager to do more antitrust litigation in particular.
